

Contents

at intake, ask people how much time they want to spend on observing - state their relation to the object in observation ? (how carefull should we be in handling/investigating?)

options in frameworks for observation - thick description - the common sense of software - portraiture - imaging software (sketch, drawing, painting, photography, graphical representation etc) personify an abstraction - from aski to developer language?